LITTEST RETIREE—Like most little boys, George Linnell, of Ely, Nev., liked to go to the airport and watch the big plane land. But he became such a familiar visitor that ground crew personnel made him an "official" signalman. With miniature signal paddles made by his father, George got so expert that he was actually allowed to guide planes to their parking places. Photo, left, was taken in 1957 when George was 6 years old and was being briefed on the instruments in an airliner's cockpit. Now 11, signalman George "retired" recently because of the press of other activities. United Airlines held a retirement party, right, with cake and five-year service pin.

3 Hospitalized After Crashes

2 Wellsville Persons In Fair Condition

Three persons were hospitalized following two district traffic mishaps investigated Monday by the State Highway Patrol.

Two Wellsville persons were hurt in a highway accident at 5:25 p.m. one mile south of East Liverpool on Route 7, the Lisbon barracks reported.

Norman E. Brown, 60, of 616 10th St., driver of one of the involved cars, received possible head injuries, and his passenger, Miss Shirley Andrew, 32, of 2102 Clark Ave., suffered lacerations of the right knee.

Brown and Miss Andrew are listed in fair condition at East Liverpool City Hospital.

The patrol, which is still investigating, said Brown pulled out to pass another vehicle and was struck in the rear by an auto operated by Frank C. Thorne, 21, of RD 1, Salineville.

At North Lima a Hubbard man was taken to South Side Hospital in Youngstown with contusions of the face, possible fractured skull and internal injuries after a collision of his car and a tractor-trailer truck at 11:30 p.m. Monday.

The victim, Gary Logan, 20, of Homewood Ave., Hubbard, is listed in fair condition.

The patrol said Logan's northbound car collided with a truck operated by Clarence Vizedon, 30, of Hamilton, as the van, also northbound, pulled from a private drive at the square in North Lima into the path of the Hubbard car. Logan's auto hit the right side of the truck cab. Vizedon was cited for failure to yield the right of way.

Warm Temperatures Are Welcome Relief

The warmest weather in several weeks brought smiles of relief to the faces of most Salemites today.

Sunny skies and moderating temperatures reached across the state, in fact.

The mercury stood at 46 degrees at noon here today, compared to below zero readings last Tuesday.

Annual Meeting To Be In April

C. of C. Directors Get Division Assignments

Division chairmen for various facets of community activity were appointed by Chamber of Commerce President Lozier Caplan when the board of directors of the Salem organization met Monday afternoon.

Tentative plans were made for a membership campaign, to be held in the near future, with past presidents of the C. of C. taking charge.

The Chamber's annual dinner meeting will be held in April, sometime after Easter.

President Caplan referred to Ed Thomas, Eljer plant manager and chairman of the Chamber's industrial service committee, the announcement by the Pennsylvania Railroad that it is seeking PUCO approval of plans to limit freight shipments to Salem to full carloads only. The Chamber may protest the proposition at the hearing before the public utilities commission in Columbus Feb. 23. Chamber officers and directors

GOP Judiciary Chief Asks State Study

Hoffman Proposes Reapportionment

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Republican chairman of the Ohio Senate Judiciary Committee has stepped squarely into the boiling national controversy over whether state legislatures give equal representation to city folk.

"My intention," says Cincinnati Republican Sen. Fred L. Hoffman, "simply is to make Senate representation more nearly represent population."

This is a switch from general GOP policy which, feeling legislative apportionment in the several states aids Republican candidates, seems generally willing to let things stand as they are.

Hoffman's proposed constitutional amendment, which would wipe out the frozen-in state senatorial districts as set up by the Ohio Constitution now, seeks to let the State Apportioning Board set up the new districts.

The board is made up of the governor, the auditor and the secretary of state. All now are Republicans and the GOP will hold the posts for the next four years. The proposed amendment, if approved by three-fifths of the membership of each House and adopted by a majority vote of the Ohio electorate, would be effective early next year.

It would have no effect on the method of selecting House members, now the subject of two federal court suits. Those suits attack the so-called Hanna Amendment which guarantees each of Ohio's 88 counties at least one member of the House, regardless of population.

Meanwhile, Senate Democrats got a little hot over the new Republican system of shoving the governor's appointments of key officials through the "advice-and-consent" process in the Senate.

Until the adoption of a constitutional amendment by a vote of the people in late 1961, the Senate Rules Committee always received—and could bottle up—any appointment by a governor. If an appointment was not confirmed by the end of a legislative session, the appointment died. The constitutional change altered that. Now, an appointee is considered confirmed unless he is turned down by a vote of the full Senate.

Under the system the Republican majority now is using, as soon as an appointment is submitted to the Senate for its "advice and consent," a vote is taken immediately.

Senate Democrats objected on grounds the new rule leaves them absolutely in the dark as to what appointments are to be considered on a given day. Democrats have members on the Rules Committee and, under the old system, knew what confirmation proposals were coming up.

"This is highly irregular," asserted Senate Minority Leader Frank W. King, D-Lucas.

Rogers Dump Closed As Sanitary Act

ROGERS — For sanitary reasons Mayor Robert McCleary and Village Council closed the dump Monday night until further notice. Residents have privately operated garbage pick-up service at their disposal and the village observes three clean-up days, first of which will be in April.

The group authorized the purchase of two "men working" signs and two "no parking" signs to be placed on the request of street Commissioner Albert Starkey.

It was reported the two new traffic lights which have been purchased to replace the less satisfactory signals now at the intersection of Routes 7 and 154 will be erected as soon as the weather improves.

After Councilman Glenn Rhodes read a news item about the proposed restoration of Beaver Creek State Park, the group voted to send letters of endorsement of the project to State Representative Clarence Wetzel and Congress Senator Wayne L. Hays.

Mrs. Maine Hall, clerk, presented bills totaling $807, which were authorized for payment.

A three-year contract, an extension of the old one, was agreed upon by which the Blankenship Insurance Co. will provide property and liability insurance for the Community Hall.

A special meeting was called by Mayor McCleary for Feb. 18 at 7 p.m. to discuss the firemen's lease for Community Hall and the proposed remodeling of the hall's northeast corner of the kitchen.

Mrs. Lucile Jensen, president of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Rogers Volunteer Fire Department, presented the plan of the women's group, but action was tabled until the Feb. 18 session.

The next regular meeting will be held March 4.

Navy Watches Shipping Lanes

Says No Vessels Enter Undetected

WASHINGTON (AP) — Authorities said today every ship route into Cuba is watched by patrol planes and the Navy feels sure no vessels have slipped into Cuban ports undetected since the blockade.

Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., implied last week that two Soviet vessels which arrived in Cuba recently may have eluded surveillance. One of them unloaded arms, he said.

Keating said these ships followed a "maximum security route" which he said passed through areas "where the United States is least able to maintain adequate surveillance."

Usually reliable Navy sources, preferring to remain anonymous, said Keating probably is referring to a ship route entering the Caribbean between Venezuela and Puerto Rico.

These sources did not dispute that ships steaming this route might sometimes pass beyond the area covered by U.S. patrol planes.

But they said such vessels would be sighted—no matter how roundabout their route into the Caribbean—when approaching the few Cuban deep water ports.

Navy patrols fly day and night surveillance missions from Jacksonville, Fla., Key West, Fla., the Guantanamo naval base on the eastern end of Cuba, and from Puerto Rico. This, the Navy says, gives complete coverage of the waters around Cuba. The planes carry night vision infrared cameras.

Also on watch is a sizable force of Navy ships, plus units of the Coast Guard.

The Defense Department has refused on security grounds to say how many vessels have anchored in Cuban ports since the blockade was lifted last Nov. 20, or to identify nationalities of such ships.

Last Thursday the Pentagon broke this rule to say that two large Soviet ships arrived in Cuba some days earlier and that "there is no evidence that either carried offensive weapons." This statement came after Keating made a Senate speech claiming a continued and growing Soviet arms buildup in Cuba.

The Navy does not claim it can tell whether incoming vessels carry arms — but officers say they would know a missile-carrier when they saw one.

Koenreich Expected At Council Meeting

Fred W. Koenreich, Democratic councilman-at-large, is expected to attend tonight's Council meeting at 7:30 p.m. It will be the first time he has been able to be at a session of the city legislative body since an illness which befell him eight months ago.

On Council's agenda this evening are the consideration of several ordinances, including three final assessment measures to arrange for payment of repairs to Broadway, Columbia St. and 2nd St., and an action to authorize the city to repay the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency $35,000 which was loaned to the city for preliminary engineering work on the forthcoming W. Solicitor Contest Is Assured

Republicans File Slate For Primary

The Republicans will have a complete slate of candidates and one contest for the May 7 municipal primaries, as the result of party filings with the Board of Elections Monday afternoon.

A contest for the job of solicitor was assured when Atty. Thomas Coe filed for re-election to oppose Atty. Scott McCorkhill, who had filed earlier.

Coe is serving his first term in the office previously given up by McCorkhill, who had been named solicitor by Mayor Dean B. Cramer, a Democrat, to fill a vacancy caused by former Solicitor James Primm's resignation in 1960.

Nine other Republicans have filed, eight of them yesterday, after it appeared over the weekend that only a last-minute rush of candidates would prevent a listless primary election.

To date, only two Democrats have filed. They are Mayor Cramer, who will be seeking a fifth term, and James G. Aldom, a councilman-at-large.

3 Political Newcomers

Three newcomers are among the Republican aspirants to City Council.

Seeking the First Ward nomination will be Robert Gene Hanna, an employee of the Electric Furnace Co. and son of former Councilman Arthur Hanna.

The GOP candidate in the Third Ward is Tom Smith, vice president of the Pittsburgh Foundry who moved to Salem about 15 months ago from Allegheny county, Pa., where he had held a township office.

Filing for council-at-large is Joyce S. Wilson, an employee of the Ohio Bell Telephone Co., along with Ralph K. Zimmerman, veteran Fourth Ward Councilman who is running "at large" to permit Richard L. Cobourn to seek the Fourth Ward spot. Cobourn, president of the Reilly PTA and former officer in the Junior Chamber of Commerce, lost the nomination for councilman at large two years ago.

Charles Gibbs, a teller at the First National Bank, filed for a second term as Second Ward councilman, and Jack Rance, personnel director of the E. W. Bliss Co., filed for a second term as councilman-at-large.

Another Republican who filed yesterday was City Auditor Helen Coyne, who is completing her fourth successive term in that capacity.

$42,449 Collected by City

Income Tax Receipts Increased In January

The Salem city auditor's office took in a total of $42,449.63 in income tax funds in January, Auditor Helen Coyne reported today.

Last month's collection was $31,192.22 more than the amount taken in in January, 1962.

Employers withholding tax in January of this year amounted to $39,651.48 (compared with $36,182.90 in January of last year). Business finals for 1963 and declarations for '63 made last month totaled $804.83 (and $1,223.37 in January, 1962).

Individual final returns for 1962 and declarations for 1963 made last month amounted to $1,593.42 (and $1,924.14 in the first month of last year). The January, 1962, collection was $39,330.41.

Mrs. Coyne issued a reminder that final returns must be made on or before April 15 by all places of business within the city or outside the city if the owner lives in the city, and by all individuals working in the city and living outside the city.

Filing earlier as GOP treasurer candidate was George Equizi, assistant cashier at the Farmers National Bank. The office is now held by James Criswell, who is not expected to seek re-election.

Equizi is a past president of the Junior Chamber.

Leetonia GOP Candidates

The Republicans at Leetonia completed filing a slate of candidates yesterday with the Board of Elections.

New entrants are Gene A. Dean for clerk of Council; DeErla R. Smith, treasurer; Dale McCormick and Homer Kridler, for Council, and Donald J. Stelts, Clarence M. Bricker and Russell E. Smith for the Board of Public Affairs.

Mayor Ralph B. Kennedy filed earlier for re-election on the GOP ticket.

Filing from Columbiana yesterday was Joseph G. Wojtecki for the Democratic nomination as village clerk.

At East Palestine, F. Dale Moon and Richard David Miller filed for council. Both are Republicans.

Girl, Father Struck by Auto Here

Shirley Sue Cooper, 7, and her father, Kenneth Cooper, 38, of 770 Benton Road were treated for contusions of the legs Monday evening at Central Clinic Hospital where they were taken by police cruiser after being hit by a car on S. Broadway at 6:49 p.m.

The accident happened about 100 feet south of State St. According to police, the Coopers got out of a car parked on 119 S. Broadway and walked into the path of a northbound car operated by Ralph L. Cosgran, 51, of 163 E. Oregon Ave., Sebring.

Following treatment, father and daughter were dismissed from the hospital.

At 1:15 p.m. Monday, a car driven by Linda Sue Heston, 21, of 170 Washington St., figured in a minor accident in the State St. city parking lot. Miss Heston reported that as she was backing into a meter stall her foot slid off the brake and onto the gas pedal causing her to strike a parked vehicle owned by Frank V. Stauffer of 1913 E. State St.

The missile issue was brought up again Monday by Rep. Donald C. Bruce, R-Ind.

He told the House he has information from friendly diplomats indicating that 40 or more Soviet intermediate-range missiles—capable of striking American cities—are still in Cuba. These, he said, are in addition to the 42 the Soviet said it put in Cuba and removed after the threatening days of the crisis.

The Defense Department swiftly disputed Bruce's contention, declaring: "No friendly government has so informed the United States. There remains no credible evidence to support his statement."

In reply, Bruce suggested "they talk to the State Department. They better get their heads together."

Progress Reports Made On Road Jobs

Progress reports of two state highway department projects in Columbiana County were made today by the Division 11 office.

Construction remains ahead of schedule on the 2.7-mile U. S. Route 30 relocation from East Liverpool to State Route 170 near Calcutta, with 45 per cent completion.

About 18 per cent completion is shown in the report for a 0.2 mile relocation on State Route 172 east of New Garden. This calls for replacement of an existing narrow bridge.

Says Weapons Not Offensive

Statement Follows Reports In Congress

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara says "there are undoubtedly missiles in Cuba" but not of the type that would menace the United States.

"Based on the information available to me," he said, "I believe that there are no surface missiles in Cuba threatening this country today."

McNamara put his views on the record in an exclusive interview with The Associated Press as a congressional hue and cry rose over Soviet military strength on the island 90 miles from the American coast.

One issue of the controversy is just how many Soviet troops are in Cuba. President Kennedy has estimated 17,000. Some legislators have expressed belief there are many more.

McNamara would not be drawn into that question. He said he would rather not comment on the presence of Soviet troops or reports they seem to be digging in to stay.

But he declared that one reason for the maze of persistent reports on ballistic missiles in Cuba may be confusion over the various kinds of missiles that are there.

"The report perhaps confuses ground-to-ground, intermediate-range ballistic missiles (a type the United States considers offensive) on the one hand with the other types of missiles which undoubtedly are stocked in Cuba," he said.

Of this latter category, McNamara ticked off five kinds:

"1. Air defense missiles.

"2. Air-to-air missiles used by fighters to attack other fighters.

"3. Surface-to-sea missiles used for coastal defense purposes.

"4. Missiles for coastal defense purposes fired from patrol-type boats.

"5. Ground-to-ground missiles for short range use against troops in the field."

Said McNamara: "It is entirely probable that missiles of these classes exist in Cuba, and it seems probable that the reports... are based on that probability."

The missile issue was brought up again Monday by Rep. Donald C. Bruce, R-Ind.

He told the House he has information from friendly diplomats indicating that 40 or more Soviet intermediate-range missiles—capable of striking American cities—are still in Cuba. These, he said, are in addition to the 42 the Soviet said it put in Cuba and removed after the threatening days of the crisis.

First Year Cost To Be $31 Million

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy urged today bold new programs he said would eventually free hundreds of thousands of mental patients from hospital beds and lighten the tragic toll of mental retardation.

The cost for the first year would be $31.35 million, but it might cost many millions more when the program accelerates.

His proposals were in a special message to Congress on mental health — the first such message sent to Capitol Hill by an American president.

Kennedy asked for an across-the-board legislative program for: New community mental health centers, the centerpiece for bringing the mentally ill back to a useful life, and preventing new cases earlier.

More pre-natal care for mothers-to-be to help insure their infants will not be doomed to mental retardation.

More health care to detect and treat threatened cases earlier.

More trained personnel and facilities for training and rehabilitation of the mentally ill and retarded.

More research centers to get at the causes and, hopefully, the cures.

Specifically, the President intends to introduce four new bills, one of them not to be fully implemented until the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1964.

That bill would encourage state or local governments or non-profit groups to establish networks of community mental health centers. It would provide part of the construction costs and up to 75 per cent of the staff costs for the first 15 months, decreasing hereafter for the rest of the four-year program. There is no price tag for this program.

It now costs the American taxpayer more than $2.4 billion a year for services to the mentally ill and retarded, the President said.

Within a decade or two, the United School Board Hires Therapist

Jerry Strabley of Salineville, a senior at Kent State University, was hired on a half-time basis as speech and hearing therapist by the United Local Board of Education at a meeting Monday.

His salary will be $2,600 per year, starting Sept. 1, 1963. While devoting full time to speech and hearing therapy, he will work half-time at United and the other half in the Southern Local School District.

The board entered into an agreement with the other three districts of the county—Beaver Local, Crestview and Southern Local—to have Strabley working during April and May of this year, screening pupils in county schools in an effort to find children who will benefit by the services of a speech and hearing therapist.

A recommendation was made by Chester Brautigam, executive head of the school district, that a full-time secretary be hired for both the high school principal and the elementary principal. He suggested that Mrs. Janice Snyder remain in the elementary office, because she is assisting Peter Marra, elementary principal who is also in charge of pupil transportation. The board is expected to reach a decision on the matter at the next meeting.

The resignation of Bobby Mingus, regular bus driver during the first semester, was accepted, and Howard Blanchard of RD 1, Kensington was employed to drive for the remainder of the school year.

Administration Is 'Shook Up'

Series of Events Cause Confusion

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — It was like watching an unwitting guest bang into the China closet. The Kennedy administration had a different look each time another dish hit the floor.

With France it was surprise; with Russia, chagrin; with Canada, embarrassment; with Cuba, frustration. Unpleasant happenings with all four came within a few weeks after President Kennedy thought he was looking at a much calmer world.

The full impact of the trouble with France did not hit Kennedy until after his Jan. 14 talk to Congress about the calmness. Actually, it began just a few hours before in Paris.

There President de Gaulle chose that very day to tell a news conference he would not let Britain into the Common Market and wanted no part of Kennedy's plan for a NATO multinational nuclear force.

He wants his own weapons. His timing was brutal. It caught Kennedy by surprise. Ever since the United States, Britain, and other NATO and Common Market members have been milling around, not knowing what to do next.

Premier Khrushchev took advantage of this disarray to cross up Kennedy again. He had looked chastened and even reasonable, like a man who might be ready to do business at last, ever since Kennedy made him take his missiles out of Cuba.

At the nuclear test ban talks the Russians made a concession they had made once before but withdrawn: They would permit two or three on site inspections in Russia to prevent cheating if there was a no-test agreement.

The United States wanted eight or 10 but this looked like progress. In an obvious attempt to encourage Khrushchev, Kennedy suspended American underground tests.

After the trouble with De Gaulle got severe, Khrushchev called off the talks. No doubt he felt he could make a better deal if the Western squabble got worse.

Then, as if things were not bad enough, the State Department goofed.

Although Secretary of State Dean Rusk later said Kennedy knew nothing about it beforehand the department got so burned up at this country's Canadian ally it later apologized for the scorching.

Under an American-Canadian agreement this country was supposed to supply its neighbor with missiles and bombers. The missiles needed nuclear warheads. Under an act of Congress this country cannot give away or sell nuclear weapons.

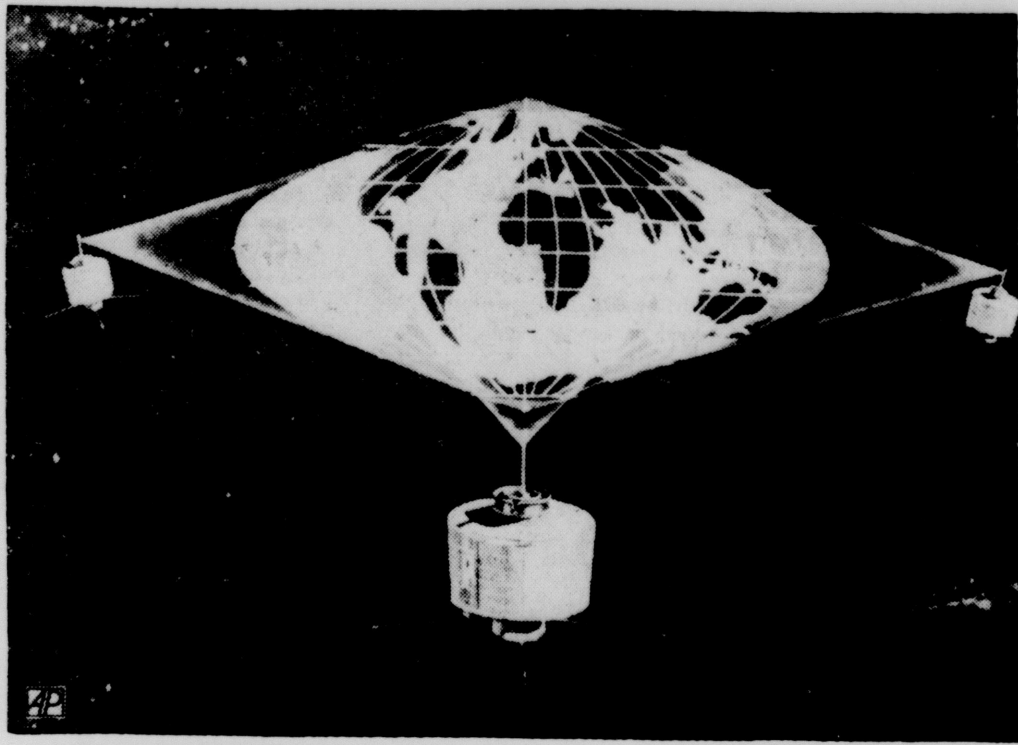

This required American control of nuclear-tipped missiles in Canada although Canada could have joint say on when they would be used.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker had different ideas: That Canada did not really need the missiles, and that if Canada had them she should control them. So everything stalled. The Canadians got into a hassle about it.

Last week the State Department sent Canada a stiff note, complaining about the delay and disputing Diefenbaker's arguments. His government stood pat. He complained this country was butting into Canadian affairs.

Rusk then apologized to "all Canadians" if the tone of the American note offended them. If the State Department had not handled this whole business too hastily, there would have been no need or reason to apologize.

Once more Cuba got on American nerves, this time because of the number of Soviet troops and weapons there. The Kennedy administration had been rather comfortable about Cuba ever since Khrushchev carted his missiles away last fall.

A WORLD OF TALK — This drawing, released in Washington by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, shows how three stationary-type satellites can provide a global communications network for 24-hour-a-day telephone and television service. Each "Syncom" satellite, at 22,300 miles altitude, can scan a third of the globe. Microwave signals can be relayed via the satellites from ground station to ground station within an established network. The satellites are designed to "hover" over the earth, their speed synchronized with the earth's rotation, appearing to hang motionless in the sky.

Now members of Congress were complaining about the size of Soviet forces in Cuba. Sen. Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., said there were 30,000-40,000 Soviet troops there, plus missiles and other weapons.

The Pentagon minimized the number although the Kennedy administration last fall seemed slow in catching up on the Russian missile buildup in Cuba. Now Rusk admitted the administration has "great concern."

Heart Fund Goal $15,000 In County

Twing Hiscox of Salem, president of the Columbiana County Heart Council, reported today the goal for the 1963 heart fund drive is $15,000 or about $2,000 more than was collected last year in the county.

Area chairmen have been named to conduct the house-to-house fund-raising campaign to be held on Heart Sunday Feb. 24. In some of the rural areas collectors will work ahead of that date due to the bad weather and roads.

Hiscox said the goal for the three-county area of Columbiana, Mahoning and Trumbull Counties is $100,000. Last year a total of $12,918.55 was collected in Columbiana County.

Here are area chairmen or groups in charge:

Salem, Mrs. Thomas Covert; Leetonia, Mrs. William Craig; Butler Township, Mrs. Herbert Hanna; East Palestine, Mrs. James P. Fruit; Unity, Mrs. Charles Foster; Salem Township, I. P. Skeels; Middleton Township and Rogers, Mrs. Leo Jenkins and Youth of the Lake Mount Church of Christ.

Negley, Sew and Saw 4-H Club; Pancake Corners and Clarkson, Mrs. Robert Pancake (Busy Gals and Pals 4-H Club); Elkrum Township and Signal, Bill and Bob Gonter; East Fairfield and Middleton, Mrs. Burt Cobourn; New Waterford, Mrs. Mary May Parks; East Rochester, Manson Merrick; and Lisbon, Early Dickey.

Chairmen have not been named for Columbiana, Salineville, and Hanoverton. Volunteers are being sought and interested persons should contact Hiscox at the Farmers National Bank in Salem.

Do You Remember?

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—One of the things the old feel sorry for the young about is that they have so few memories.

This century has seen more change than any in history, perhaps too much for the welfare of all.

But the roller-coaster ride we've had in the last two generations certainly has left a treasure trove of recollections, both sweet and bitter. And you can hold your own in the nostalgia derby if you can remember when:

A nightcap was something a man wore to bed—not a last belt from a bottle to wind up a party. You could get in a fist fight in an argument over such heated questions as the protective tariff and the free coinage of silver.

The newspaper feature sections on Sunday carried visionary predictions that eventually man would be able to fly nonstop in an airplane from coast to coast. The height of elegance was to be able to afford an iron stag in your front lawn.

People threw away their box tops because there was no place you could mail them with a quarter and get something back.

Only Norwegians and kids on barrel staves ever went skiing. We all felt grateful to Warren G. Harding for returning us to normalcy—whatever that was.

Rupert Hughes scandalized the literary world by writing a book pointing out that George Washington had sometimes acted like an ordinary human being.

If a man had gold in his teeth, it was a pretty safe bet he either was a banker or had a steady job with a railroad.

The ambition of many a housewife was to have her husband take her out to dinner at one of those new-fangled cafeterias.

A small boy whose mother made him carry a handkerchief to school in winter was the class sissy.

During prohibition the serious drinkers imbibed everything from bay rum to Jamaica ginger, and everybody for safety's sake was banned from the basement while father bottled his home brew.

The family doctor treated a neighborhood furor when he raised his price to $5 for a home call.

Nobody felt unsafe because every boy in town carried a jackknife, usually attached to his pants belt loop by an old shoe string.

Most city dwellers dreamed of saving enough money to retire to the country in their old age and run a chicken farm.

One of the most hated chores of childhood was emptying the clumpy pan of water under the family icebox.

Health Questions And Answers

Q—For at least 10 years I have been getting a dull aching pain in my heart, usually after a headache or when I have overworked. Then I have to slow down and it improves. What can you tell me about this condition?

A — Most pains in the region of the heart, especially of the type you describe, are not associated with any disorder of the heart. There are many causes of pain in this area. Anxiety, particularly anxiety over the state of the heart, is one of the commonest.

This type of pain is characteristically aggravated by exertion. Conditions that involve the lungs or the digestive organs often cause this kind of pain. A check-up by your doctor, including an X-ray of your chest should reveal the source of the trouble.

Q—I have a growth on the upper and lower lid of my left eye. I have been told that I have xanthomas. Can they be treated and new ones prevented from coming?

A—Xanthoma (pronounced zanthoma) is a yellow discoloration of the eyelids that may be slightly raised above the adjacent tissues. It is usually found near the inner corner of the eye and there are usually more than one. They may be removed by surgery or an electric needle. But, because they do not affect one's health, it is better in most cases to let them alone.

Q—What would cause my lower eyelids to puff up during the night? The swelling gradually disappears by noon.

A—Puffiness of the lower lids is the result of a loss of the elasticity of the skin. It appears to run in families, and is aggravated by fatigue. This type of localized swelling is not a sign of any serious ailment. No treatment is required but if the condition is considered unsightly a plastic surgeon may be able to help.

Q—When you give blood through a blood bank what do they check the blood for? If anything is found wrong is the donor told?

A—The blood is checked for anemia and blood type before it is drawn. The donor's pulse and blood pressure are also taken as these should be within normal limits. Questions are asked about a prospective donor's general health and past illnesses. If a donor is rejected he would surely be told the reason for the rejection.

Q—What can I do about my burning, itching scalp. It keeps me from sleeping.

A—By far the commonest cause of itching of the scalp is dandruff. Once a condition for which there was no effective remedy, there are now many preparations that will control it but there is still no permanent cure. Remedies are available with a physician's prescription.

You may have to try more than one before you find the one best suited to you because the degree of oiliness of the scalp is often a determining factor. Shampooing with tincture of green soap, or a tar soap twice a week may be helpful but this is only one part of the treatment.

There May Be Two Dozens Reasons

Hearings on a bill to outlaw boxing in New York State opened Monday. Because New York and Illinois have sanctioned more important matches than any other states and Illinois also is proposing that boxing be outlawed, it may be stated with certainty that the sport is in trouble.

There may be two dozen reasons to outlaw boxing.

It is dangerous to life. Nine fighters a year have been killed on the average for the last decade.

It is brutal. When millions of potential watchers can say they actually saw a fighter killed in the ring, as they did after one fight last year, bullfighting begins to seem mild by comparison.

It is a prime source of corruption. Every crime investigation of recent years has shown that gambling provides the cream of the money behind big crime in the United States. Boxing is a prime source of the gambling cream.

It has a shady record of duplicity, dishonesty, strong-arming and terrorism.

Granting the presence in it and on its fringes of many honest people, even its friends consistently have deplored the presence in it of some of the shadiest characters in the country.

As a public spectacle its impact on the over-impressionable can be at least as powerful as the impact of gladiatorial contests must have been in ancient Rome. Despit protestations of its value as a manly art—and the value is there—boxing's commercial value rests entirely on its saleable attraction, which is public interest in seeing one fighter knock another fighter senseless.

But when everything against boxing has been said, there's one thing that must be said for it.

It exists. It draws interest. Either as a sport or as an exhibition, it will continue—either legitimately or illegitimately. And if banned one place, it will bob up somewhere else.

The News And Views on Cuba

When the Pentagon and the White House, backed by Central Intelligence Agency, say they know what's happening in Cuba, they're on the defensive.

They didn't know what was happening last fall until President Kennedy found out, according to his admission on Oct. 23, on Oct. 16, one week before he blew the whistle.

The President's admission that the Soviet Union had completed installations for blowing the United States apart with nuclear missiles hardly constituted a discovery. Unofficial sources of information had been buzzing with the same information for weeks.

Unofficial sources are buzzing again. One day soon there will be another White House admission, with another ultimatum. The last one, it's recalled, ended in a swap of President Kennedy's order to dismantle the U.S. missile base in Turkey for Premier Khrushchev's promise to dismantle the Soviet Union base in Cuba.

IT IS BEING reported so frequently and openly that Russian weaponry and manpower in Cuba are being beefed up that official protestations of ignorance are not convincing.

The truth is, official sources are not as ignorant as they appear to be; they couldn't be. They are restricted in what they can say; they cannot indulge themselves in hearsay and unconfirmed reports.

They must prove what they report, and the officials they report it to must be able to back up what they say. To take the country to the brink of war, as President Kennedy most certainly took it last October, is not a decision that can be based on second-hand testimony. He had incontrovertible evidence—aerial photographs of Russian missile bases.

This time Khrushchev will not make that mistake; he will keep everything concealed. If Russia intended to use Cuba as a base for submarines capable of discharging nuclear missiles, there would be no need to reveal anything. The submarines themselves could be hidden with no trouble. The organization and equipment for maintaining the Cuba base would look like the organization and equipment to defend Cuba against an attack from the United States.

IT IS A SAD situation when Americans must get news and views on Cuba from sources that are in conflict with each other—sadder still when unofficial reports take precedence over official ones.

It is impossible to believe the official version that the United States sees nothing of major significance going on in Cuba.

That most certainly does not say nothing of major significance is going on, only that the government cannot see anything of major significance going on.

With Sympathy

When stories of winter hardship are swapped among Americans, they are chiefly concerned with automotive problems.

Occasionally they deal with what happened when central heating failed for one reason or another.

Only rarely do they arise from life-and-death emergencies like those that have become commonplace in Europe during the most relentlessly cruel winter in memory.

Few Americans can comprehend what it would be like to endure winter weather under circumstances common in Europe.

Central heating is the exception. Many buildings are not heated in any way—churches, libraries, museums and so on.

Even plumbing that is modern by European standards was not designed for cold weather. In many houses, pipes are carried up on the exterior of the house.

Fuel is hard to come by at best, impossible to find when the search becomes competitive. Food supplies are likewise at a minimum when demand increases.

Road and rail travel and communications are not adapted to harsh weather. In even a light snow, London and Paris are more helpless than Washington, D.C.

Few Europeans possess suitable clothing for severe weather. Nothing about their customary routine of living has prepared them for the savage storms and cruel temperatures of this worst of all conceivable winters.

It is something to remember the next time the car heater fails to work, or an ear gets frost-bitten. Millions of Europeans are not only inconvenienced this winter; they are suffering.

Fidgetation

By Truman Twill

If you survived the January jitters, all you have to do is get past the February fantods and you're home free for the March mopes and the April apprehensions.

No one knows what February will bring in the way of weather, but February fantods and January jitters have little to do with weather.

If anything the January jitters were milder this year because the weather was so bad it kept our minds off our troubles, which have a way of compounding themselves in the first four months of each new year.

Jitters, fantods, mopes and apprehensions—they are connected in some way with what goes on in our heads while we are waiting for the rustlings of Spring.

Once Christmas and New Year are past, we write off everything that had been left dangling from the old year and start with a fresh slate. Then what happens?

We are all set to draw pretty pictures on it with colored chalk and there's nothing to look at but snow scenes. When you've seen one snow scene you've seen 'em all. You couldn't care less.

That's what brings on the jitters. The jitters bring on the fantods.

Fantods are fidgets. Fidgets are a state of restlessness characterized by nervous motions—tugging at a girdle, a necktie, puffing on cigarettes, fussing with the hair.

The condition of having fidgets is known as fidgetation.

This is what prevails throughout February—fidgetation.

Everybody will be waiting all month for something to happen that hasn't a chance of happening. In imagination they will see forsythia creeping in saffron bloom and through mud and snow.

They will see ducklings, baby chicks, lambs, colts, calves and goslings. They will see buttercups nodding sleepily in sequestered glades.

They will smell lilacs and feel the texture of turf warmed by sunshine.

They will hear the pink-pink of tennis balls and the clink of horseshoes.

They will have the sensation of riding on roller coasters and in convertibles with tops down.

They will envision themselves tanned and sun-warmed, luxuriating on sandy beaches.

They will feel the crumbling soil of flowerbeds in their fingers and remember what it is like to be lulled to sleep by the sighs of a summer breeze filtering through fluttering spruce bows outside an open bedroom window.

They can hardly wait for all these things to happen.

When it doesn't happen, the fidgets begin. Fidgets are fantods. And when it still hasn't happened in March fantods lead into mopes.

And when April comes and Spring is back holding back, apprehensions grow out of mopes. What if Spring never comes?

Steel Firm's Reports Reveal Administration's Error

By DAVID LAWRENCE

A significant piece of news in the last few days casts doubt on the soundness of the administration's economic policy—which is that, if the government stimulates spending and thus increases the volume of sales, profits will rise.

Three of the biggest steel companies have just issued their annual reports. These show that, for the year 1962, although sales went up, profits went down. They show also the total effect of President Kennedy's error in judgment when last April he ordered governmental agencies to use all their powers to coerce the big steel companies into abandoning a proposed price increase of three-tenths of a cent a pound.

The U. S. Steel Corp.'s report for 1962 has just come out. The company's sales went up by $163 million, but profits went down $6 million. A few days later, the annual reports of Bethlehem Steel Co. and Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp. were published. They revealed the same thing—larger sales but smaller profits. All three companies continued their reduced dividend payments.

Also, even after taking into account the next tax rules permitting larger depreciation reserves, the U. S. Steel Corp.'s net profits or 1962 were $6 million behind net profits for 1961.

Yet this narrow margin of profit comes when the total volume is up more than one million tons. In 1953 and again in 1955, the U. S. Steel Corp. had an output of 25 million tons of steel, but this volume has steadily gone down until it reached 18 million last year.

There have been few changes in steel prices in recent years, while expenses—largely wage costs—have steadily gone up faster than the employers could absorb them.

Even though the gross national product has risen, steel has faced a steadily decreasing volume of sales in the last few years. This is because previous high sales were due primarily to wartime conditions or to the catching up by buyers in connection with periods of recession or strikes or threats of strikes.

GROWTH MUST be at a normal rate to make a steady increase in profits from a larger volume of sales. Wages cannot go up out of proportion to the rate of profit increase and yet maintain a healthy condition.

That's really the fundamental trouble with the American economy today, and the administration has not faced up to the facts.

Thus, labor exercises a virtual monopoly throughout the industry and the government sits by and allows the wage factor to be thrust into the business mechanism arbitrarily and without guidance or restraint.

Price is the crucial factor in modern industry. Nowhere has it been more conclusively demonstrated that misguided labor policies have dealt a severe blow to national progress than in steel. This industry does a volume of $15 billion a year, and the fabricators and related manufacturing businesses do another $15 billion in sales.

So it is well worthwhile for the government to take a good look at what it's one-sided handling of the steel controversy in April 1962 has done to a major industry.

At least 100,000 steel workers are today jobless. This means a lost payroll of $500 million a year. Tax cuts will not help those unemployed persons, nor will "consumer spending" help increase profits unless wage costs are overcome either through new machinery or increased prices.

If the prices proposed for steel had gone into effect in April 1962, they would never have been uniform anyway. They would have been selective so as to enable the companies to compete with foreign producers while, at the same time, moving up their own rates on certain products that Europeans cannot make competitively.

IN HIS very complex system of price making, the administration intervened and slowed down a $30 billion industry. Yet Mr. Kennedy said on TV last December that, if he had it to do all over again, he would proceed exactly the same way he did before.

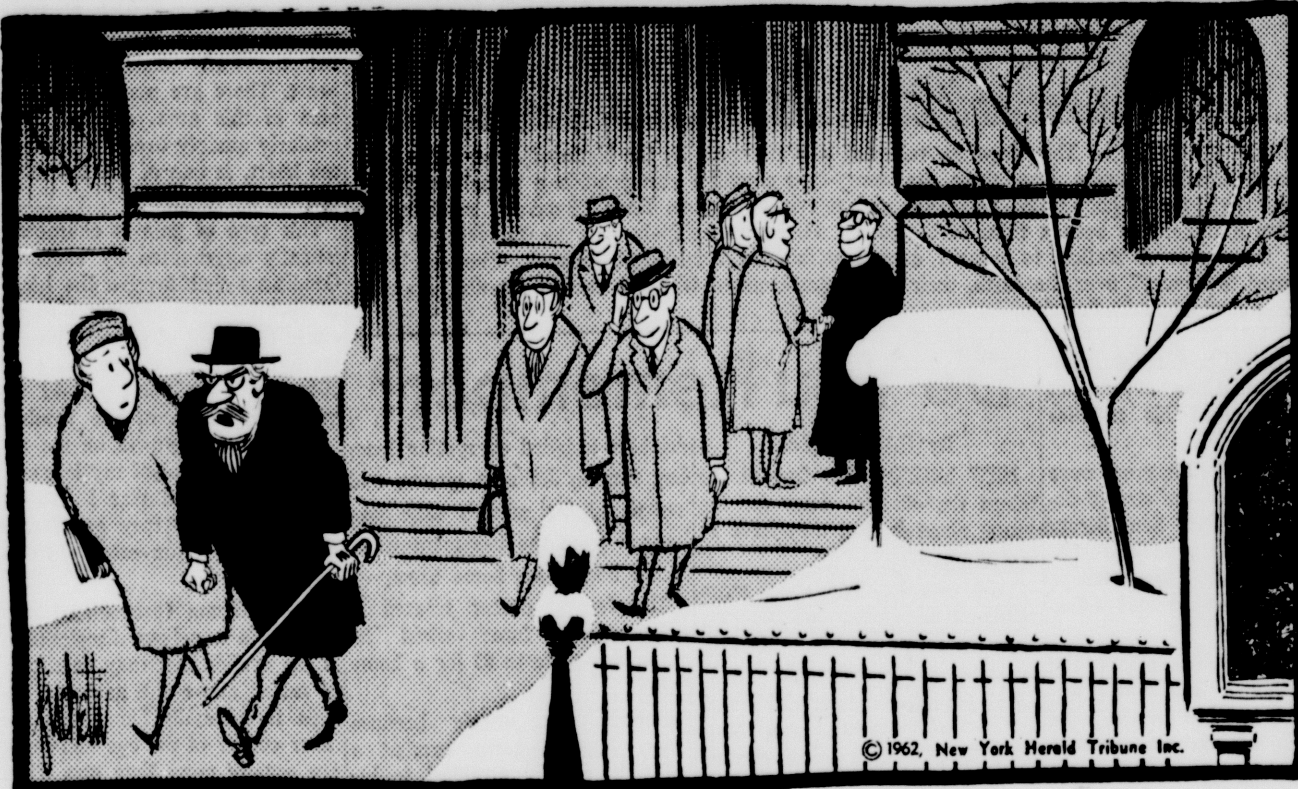

Perhaps last week's steel figures will be helpful in persuading the administration that the time has come to something about the disruptive effects of high wage demands. For the present steel contract is coming up soon for possible reopening by labor.

The union leaders of the national level are said to be hesitant to ask for wage increases now, but rumblings are heard among the local leaders who have political ambitions inside the unions.

The administration could do a constructive job of education at these levels and give the steel industry a chance to recover before it is faced with more wage increases.

"Well, the Meek Won't Inherit the Earth While I'M Around"

U.S. Sure of Cuban Buildup

By VICTOR RIESEL

Walter Reuther now is all set to take on the big ones—the biggest, in fact, still outside the fold. None other than E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co., through a "Du Pont Organizing Committee."

He has picked a brilliant "young" chief of staff to coordinate his many drives—unionizing campaigns, legislative offensives, political drives, and constant contact with the topmost men in the U. S. government, meaning, of course, the White House and Bob Kennedy.

Walter's alter ego and alter idem, too, will be Jack Conway, an insider's insider. He's a 45-year-old all-purpose idea man, organizer, administrator, executive.

He is expert in media of many kinds, including the airwaves. He knows labor as few do.

And he knows the New Frontier as few labor men do. He's been in the inner government circle since early 1961.

At that time, he left his post as Reuther's administrative assistant in Detroit to take on the post of deputy administrator of the Housing and Home Finance Agency. That's where he worked officially. And he worked well.

HE SOON became one of Bob Kennedy's good friends. He was called on for much advice on labor—national and international.

He is in the New Frontier social set as well. In many ways he is more influential in the Kennedy circles than virtually all the known labor leaders.

His contact with the White House "ins" is Ken O'Donnell, the President's political confidant and special assistant. You can't get much closer to the rocking chair than O'Donnell.

In a few days, Jack Conway, ex-General Motors auto worker, ex-college instructor, ex-radio production man who came to influence inside the UAW when Reuther took over back in 1946, will leave the government and become Reuther's executive assistant at the Industrial Union Dept. of the AFL-CIO.

This is thought of as "the old CIO." It has 60 affiliated unions and a treasury of more than $3 million. It's this department which is launching the new five-target area and two industry drive.

THE TWO industries are the textile and wood and furniture fields. This will take the IUD organizers into the "Southeast" where there are millions of non-union members.

But it can also be reported that the du Pont organizing committee will be "unveiled" soon. After the Textile Organizing Committee and the Furniture and Wood Products Organizing Committee are launched in the next few weeks.

The du Pont drive will be discussed at the IUD "operations committee" session in Washington on Feb. 15th.

Du Pont is to the labor movement what Liz Taylor is to a movie maker. For years one AFL-

CIO union or another has been attempting to unionize the firm's 80 plants in 28 states. At the moment the International Association of Machinists, led by Al Hayes, is quietly moving against some of the plants.

Du Pont employs 51,000 "wage roll" employees. About 60 per cent belong to independent unions. To men such as Reuther an independent outfit is about as useful as a barber in a detachment of Castro militia.

SINCE THERE are only 6 per cent of du Pont's workers in AFL-CIO unions, the big chemical company—with its fabrics, nylons, paints, footwear, film, biochemicals, electrochemicals and lawn and garden products—is a succulent and dramatic target.

Since Reuther is also determined to unionize white-collar workers, technicians, researchers and engineers, a successful drive on the company would give unionism the prestige it needs among the younger "technocratic" employees of today's space age. Reuther then could move on to another goal—organization of hundreds of thousands of government employees.

These are vast plans, indeed—especially when coupled with parallel political and legislative campaigns. So he is building up a team of trustworthy, completely competent men.

He will concentrate much of his legislative and political activity in Washington. His self-effacing brother Roy will spend considerable time here. Thus Reuther will have brothers Victor and Roy in Washington.

Coupled with Jack Conway, they'll make a hard-hitting team on the industrial and political and congressional fronts.

It's a strategy that worked in Franklin Roosevelt's day. It will help in John Kennedy's era.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm so upset I don't know where to turn. My mother who lives 22 miles from here had a stroke. I've had to spend a lot of time relieving my older sister who is trying to care for her.

When I go to mother's my husband takes care of our 17-month-old daughter. Three weeks ago when I came home, I found a note saying my husband had taken the baby to the hospital. She had fallen out of her high chair. Fortunately no bones were broken.

Last night I found a similar note. This time, the baby suffered a broken arm. When I went to the hospital this morning the doctor questioned me at length. It seems this is the fourth time in a year our child has been brought in. (I didn't know about the other two times.) The doctor suspects my husband has been beating the baby.

Can this be possible? If it's true what can I do? Please help me—I'm a nervous wreck. —E.D.A.

Dear Edna: A University of Colorado team investigated the "battered child syndrome" recently and found 302 cases in a single year. The parents usually deny beating the child. The high chair excuse is the most popular.

A parent who would beat a youngster is deeply disturbed emotionally and the child should be protected against such brutality. Keep your eyes wide open and if there is further evidence, by all means get this man out of your home and into treatment.

Dear Ann: I was shocked recently when, at a social gathering, an officer of a bank had one too many martinis and began to speak openly about the financial problem of two of his clients.

Last night, at another social affair, a nurse who is employed in a doctor's office revealed some highly personal information about a prominent woman who is a patient.

I always thought individuals who dealt professionally with the public had a moral obligation to keep their mouths shut. It seems unspeakable that they would use confidential information for social chit-chat. Is there something I, as one person, can do to combat this sort of thing? I am —HOFFIFIED.

Dear Horrified: Yes, you can do business with another bank and go to another doctor. And if the question ever is raised as to "why," you can explain—leaving out all names of course.

Big Dollar Eyes

Dear Ann: I am a 15-year-old girl who is crazy about horses. I belong to a riding club and we meet every week. My parents are not what you would call rich, so I really appreciate this luxury.

The more I see of horses the more I yearn to have a horse of my own. I know my folks can't afford to buy me a horse, at least not for quite awhile.

My grandmother is a shut-in. She was injured in an accident a long time ago and never goes any place. Mother says she has a large bankbook and gets a regular income from some property. She never spends any money on herself, so she must be saving a lot.

I want to ask her if she will buy me a horse and board it. It would mean the world to me and I think she could do it with no trouble. What do you say? —UNDECIDED.

Dear Undecided: I say take your big eyes off your grandmother's bankbook. You don't ASK people to buy you a gift, regardless of how much money they have. And it may well be that your grandmother needs every bit of what she has to care for herself in her remaining years.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Salem News, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

So They Say

We are in danger of losing one of our greatest freedoms: The freedom to fail. Profit and loss are two sides of the same coin. . . . Our greatest economic asset is the right to invest private capital in the hope of making a profit, but at the risk of losing your shirt.

Not All Food Prices Up Because of Cold Weather

Price changes on many food items are not all up in the areas of these products will hold at about the present level.

BEEF PRICES on live animals again edged downward toward new lows since last spring. This is effecting prices of practically all retail cuts. Pork prices are largely unchanged from last week when live animal prices were close to the low point for the winter season.

Most market estimates show that more beef and pork is expected to come to market during the next few months. This indicated that these prices will not increase and could even go lower than at the present time.

The point that market men emphasize is that the items that require a large percentage of the family's budget are not increasing. This includes most canned and frozen products, meats, cereals, and dairy products.

ECONOMICAL PRICES are in effect on some white potatoes, large size onions, carrots, and radishes. Many find that canned and frozen vegetables offer opportunities to stretch the food dollar. Storage stocks of canned asparagus, corn, peas, tomatoes and snap beans are more than found one year ago. More frozen corn, lima beans, peas and french fried potatoes are ready for markets this winter. With this selection of processed foods in ample supply, a large increase in overall food prices is unlikely.

Choice of fresh fruits is more limited. Apples are the prime example of an economically priced fruit — especially on such varieties as Jonathan, Stayman, Rome and McIntosh. The Rome variety is at its best during this period of the year. Banana prices are coming down from the 19 cent per pound range and will again be featured in the 12 to 15 cent level.

Canned and frozen fruits can also substitute for the higher priced oranges and grapefruit. There is still quite a price variation in local markets on canned orange and grapefruit juices as well as storage stocks of fruit cocktail, frozen peaches, applesauce and frozen strawberries indicate price-

NOTICE OF SALE OF BONDS — Sealed bids will be received by the undersigned, Clerk of the Board of Education of the West Branch Local School District, herein referred to as the Board, in the County of Mahoning, Columbiana and Portage, Ohio, at the office of the Board at the Administration Building, Main and Fifth Streets, Beloit, Ohio (telephone No. YE 8-2115), until twelve noon, Eastern Standard Time, on the 27th day of February, 1963, at which time the bids will be publicly opened and read, for the purchase of bonds of the Board in the aggregate amount of $300,000, authorized by resolution adopted January 7, 1963. Bids shall be sealed and endorsed "Bid for School Improvement Bonds."

Said bonds shall be dated the first day of February, 1963, shall be in the denomination of $1,000 each, shall draw interest payable semi-annually on the first days of June and December of each year beginning June 1, 1963, at the rate of 3 1/2% per annum. Anyone desiring to do so may present a bid for said bonds based upon their bearing a different rate of interest, but not in excess of 6% provided that where a fractional interest rate is bid, such fraction shall be one-eighth of one per cent of a multiple thereof.

Said bonds mature as follows: $20,000 on December 1 in each of the years from 1964 to 1968, inclusive, and $21,000 on December 1 in each of the years from 1969 to 1978, inclusive.

Said bonds are issued for the purpose of constructing a gymnasium-auditorium to the new West Branch High School, furnishing and equipping the new West Branch High School and landscaping and otherwise improving school site.

Said bonds are payable at the office of the legal depository of the Board, presently The First National Bank of Salem, Salem, Ohio, without deduction for its services as the Board's paying agent, and are supported by unlimited taxes.

Said bids will be promptly considered, and said bonds will be sold to the highest bidder offering the lowest interest rate at not less than par and accrued interest. The lowest interest rate will be determined by calculating the total interest to be paid on the bonds at the rate bid and deducting therefrom the premium bid. If each of two or more bids is the highest bid offering the lowest interest rate, the bonds will be awarded on such one of said highest bids as is chosen by lot. All bids must be accompanied by cash, bank cashier's or official's check, or certified check, payable to the Board, or any combination thereof, aggregating one per cent of the par amount of said bonds, upon condition that if the bid is accepted, the bidder will receive and pay for such bonds in accordance with the terms and provisions of this notice. No bank bidding for such bonds shall file its own cashier's or official check, nor a check certified by it. Such security shall be held by the Board unused pending delivery of the bonds and forfeited as full liquidated damages in the event of default by the successful bidder.

The proceedings for this issue have been taken under the supervision of Squire, Sanders & Dempsey, Bond Attorneys, Cleveland, Ohio, whose approving opinion may be obtained by the successful bidder at his expense. A complete transcript of proceedings and the printed bonds will be furnished by the Board, together with a certificate showing no litigation pending or threatened at the time of the delivery, to enjoin delivery or to contest the validity of the bonds or the power to issue them or the levy or collection of taxes for their payment.

In the event the interest on said bonds should by act of Congress or otherwise become subject to Federal Income Taxes prior to delivery, the successful bidder may refuse to accept delivery and in such event his bid security shall be returned without interest.

It is contemplated that the Board will meet at 8:00 o'clock p.m. on the 27th day of February, 1963, to consider said bids and make an award.

The bonds will be delivered at the office of the undersigned, or such other place as may be agreed on with the successful bidder. If outside of the limits of the School District the bidder shall pay expense of delivery at that place.

Before making tender of the bonds at the place of delivery on the Board shall give written notice to the successful bidder not later than the third day before the proposed tender, of the fact that the bonds, if deposited with the undersigned and approving opinion will be available for delivery and giving the date and hour for the tender at the said place of delivery, provided however that nothing herein contained shall prevent the making of a mutually agreeable arrangement for the delivery of the bonds either at the place fixed for delivery or elsewhere.

If such notice has not been given by the Board or waived by the successful bidder and the bonds, transcript, non-litigation certificate and approving opinion are not available for delivery to the successful bidder at such place of delivery on or before 12:00 o'clock noon of the 30th calendar day after the day fixed for the receipt of bids, and the successful bidder shall not be in default of any of his obligations, he shall have the right thereafter, and so long as no such tender by the Board shall yet have been made, to cancel the contract of purchase, such right to be exercised by delivering to the undersigned (or to her office during business hours) written notice of such cancellation. Such bidder shall thereupon be entitled to the return of the deposit which accompanied his bid and it shall be returned to him immediately.

The right is reserved to reject bids.

Hints From Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Heloise: Here is my nylon net story:

If you are about to be married, buy five yards of white nylon net. At the reception use it as a tablecloth with colored sheets under it. Then . . . after the wedding, put it away.

It can be used later on to scour pots and for dishcloths. You can even use it to trim the bassinette . . . and to put over the buggy when you put the baby out to sun. And save some to make a bride doll for your daughter . . . or for your little girl to wear for her wedding veil when playing bride. Without a doubt it is a worthwhile investment.

And one more suggestion: Use a manila envelope marked "Heloise Clippings" to file.

MRS. C. E. RICKETTS. Now aren't you the cutest! Love YOU always, HELOISE

DEAR HELOISE: I sent your idea, of using a clip-type clothes pin to hold a shower cap, to my daughter in college, and told her to clip the shower cap to her towel. This way it is not necessary for her roommates to move the cap when they want to use the shower.

Later, I found some plastic hooks with clips attached which I sent the girls. Now, they can each hang their own shower cap on their own towel bar. Thanks for this tip.

I also bought a clip-type hook for myself and now my shower cap is always handy and I have not had to pick it up from the floor since I started using this idea.

LETTER OF THOUGHT

DEAR HELOISE: My memory seems to have left me long ago . . . Why?

MOTHER OF FIVE

DEAR MOTHER: Have you done anything recently because YOU wanted to do it? QUIT worrying.

Try doing something for yourself today.

Anyone have an answer for this mother of five children? If so write to Heloise.

HELOISE

DEAR HELOISE: For mothers with children in cribs or bassinets:

Take your worn and torn sheets and cut them to size and they are as good as any other sheet. These can be made into "fitted" sheets for your child's crib or bassinette.

NANCY

DEAR HELOISE: I spilled bleach on a black crepe dress and also on a blue cotton print dress.

After having dresses cleaned and washed respectively . . . I rubbed the faded spots with crayons. I then pressed with a hot iron. I repeated this until the spot was thoroughly covered and then ironed the crepe dress on the wrong side. I ironed the cotton print dress on the right side . . . matched the color of crayons to the print in the dress exactly. It completely covered the bleached spots.

ELECTRICITY Bakes Cakes Better

... Because It's FLAMELESS

Cakes bake moist and tender in a flameless electric range because there are no hot drafts of constantly changing air. Meats, too, stay juicier, giving your family more of the valuable vitamins and minerals you pay for. And, of course, winter or summer your kitchen stays cooler because only a flameless electric range oven is insulated on all six sides to keep the heat in.

Surface cooking, too, is cooler because with a flameless electric range the heat goes directly into the bottom of the pan . . . doesn't billow up around the sides. And only flameless electric heat is clean as electric light so pans stay clean . . . curtains and walls stay cleaner far longer. Buy an electric range and you'll get these and many more of the extra advantages you get only with flameless electric cooking.

You Qualify As Real Old-Timer Here If You Remember When ---

By VIRGINIA HURRAY

Think you can qualify as an old-timer of Salem?

Carl Juergens of 405 N. Broadway, 75-year-old native, recently enumerated a series of criteria by which a Salemite may rate his longevity here.

To pass this test certifying you as a genuine old-timer of Salem, you should remember every one of the situations and circumstances mentioned below.

If you remember at least 20 but not all 30 things listed, you don't really qualify as an old-timer yet, but you are nevertheless to be congratulated for apparently you have chosen to spend at least a considerable number of your years thus far in his fair city.

IF YOU DON'T REMEMBER any of the items below, don't feel badly either, Juergens advises. Chances are you are quite young or a newcomer or both. In any of these cases, you are welcome to stay and formulate your own list of memories here.

Testifying that this city is probably as good as any other to make observations which have a way of storing themselves in one's mind, Juergens says you are an old timer if you can remember when:

1. "Daddy" Fifer ran the Garfield Ave. street car out to Hope Cemetery.
2. The streetcar barn was where the Salem Carnegie Library now stands.
3. State St. had three different names from one city limit to the other — McKinley Ave., Main St., and W. Roosevelt Ave.
4. A big, artificial gas tank was opposite the Salem Tool Co.
5. Pidgeon's Pond was where Reilly Field now is.
6. Salem had two stove factories, Victor and Woodruffs.
7. "Old Dolly" ran to Washington on the Salem Railroad.
8. The "Starlight" baseball team played where the diamonds of Centennial Park are located.
9. The Salem Water Works pumping station was on the site of the Junior High School building.
10. The Harvest Home Picnic was held at Shelton's Grove.
11. Abandoned kilns of the Baird & Purdy Co. occupied the spot where the new Mullins office is being built.
12. Fenced-in baseball grounds were where the Eljer plant now is.
13. Sam Grove had a chewing gum factory on S. Broadway.
14. Seth Cook had a grocery store on the site of the old post office.
15. James Teegarden had a livery stable on S. Howard St.
16. "Doc" Cooper put on his medicine show at the corner of Main St. and Broadway.
17. Salem had carbon light bulbs, which were followed by the carbon arc lights.
18. Dell Davis built his electric auto, and Will Zimmerman built his steam auto.
19. Stranahan built an auto in the room over his confectionery store, then had to tear the car apart because it was too big to get out of the window.
20. "Shad" Doubt had the fancy imitation horse in front of his harness shop on Main St., and every morning he would haul the "horse" out, then haul it in again at night.
21. "Hook Foot" Brown, Gordy Dunn, "Fat" McNabb, the Harris boys, Vaughn Cobourn, Solly Shives, Tommy Dillard and some of their contemporaries had the best football team in Salem's history near the turn of the century.
22. Salem had a steam fire engine.
23. "Pop Corn" Jim had his stand at the corner of Main St. and Broadway.
24. Shoemaker, the tailor, had his store opposite that of Taylor, the shoemaker, on State St.
25. You could go to Canton on the Stark Electric for 60 cents one way.
26. "Jim" Mills always carried the flag for the old Quaker City Band.
27. Dr. Thompson, the eye specialist, used to make balloon ascensions.
28. The "Globe" skating rink burned down one evening in 1917, and nobody was hurt.
29. Salem bought its first motorized fire truck.
30. Salem had three Quaker churches.

Cincinnati Clobbers Drake 71-60 For 18th In Row

Arizona State Triumphs 89-62

Illinois Decisions Indians In Big 10

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
Cincinnati's streaking Bearcats have posted another triumph in their drive to establish themselves as one of college basketball's all-time top teams, settling a minor score in the bargain.

Fired by the shooting of Ron Bonham and showing their customary tenacious defense, the Bearcats recorded a 71-60 victory Monday night over the Drake team that threw a scare into them last week. Drake took the nation's No. 1 club into overtime Thursday night before falling 65-60.

Has Rolled Over 36 Rivals
Cincinnati now is 18-0 this season and has won 36 straight over-all for the third longest victory string ever. San Francisco holds the record of 60 in a row in 1954-56 and North Carolina won 37 straight in 1957-58. Cincy will have a shot at tying North Carolina's total this Saturday against Bradley.

In Monday night's other headline attractions—fourth-ranked Illinois strengthened its Big Ten lead by outlasting Indiana 104-101 in a free-wheeling affair; Oklahoma State topped seventh ranked Colorado 52-49 and threw the Big Eight race wide open; Mississippi State pushed into a first-place tie in the Southeastern Conference by whipping Tulane 91-73; fifth-ranked Arizona State ran over New Mexico State 89-62; and Georgia Tech, No. 6, needed some clutch work by a pair of reserves to squeeze by William and Mary 50-49.

Trailing By 5 Points Early
Cincinnati took a while to assume command in their Missouri Valley match at Drake, trailing by as much as five points in the first half. But with Bonham pumping in 15 points in a 10-minute span before intermission the Bearcats left the floor with a two-point edge. Cincinnati limited the Bulldogs to 22 points in the second half and held them scoreless the final three minutes.

Bonham finished with 31 points and, to prove he is no slouch defensively, did a brilliant job on Drake sophomore Gene West, who had scored 21 against Bonham in the squeaker last Thursday night. West got only 12 Monday night.

Purdue got its first victory in eight Big Ten starts, downing Michigan State 103-81. Davidson cashed in on free throws for a 50-49 Southern Conference decision over The Citadel. National scoring leader Nick Werkman collected 31 points as Seton Hall rapped Upsala 94-71.

Wisconsin Wins 81-78
Other scores: Utah State 85, Montana 67; Wisconsin 81, Michigan 78; Vanderbilt 74, Alabama 73, overtime; Florida 84, Tennessee 73; Mississippi 60, Louisiana State 48; Maryland 73, Georgetown 72; Texas Western 65, Arizona 50; North Texas State 85, Hardin-Simmons 75.

Besides Cincinnati, only two other Ohio collegiate teams were in action Monday night.

Wittenberg Narrowly Wins
Wittenberg's Tigers, the No. 1 small college team in the latest Associated Press poll, ran into a tough Central State team at Wilberforce but managed to emerge with a 62-60 victory.

Al Thrasher and Bill Fisher, with 29 and 28 respectively, scored all but five of Wittenberg's points. Ken Wilburn with 19 was the leading pointmaker for the losers.

Elsewhere, Youngstown hit a torrid 63 per cent of its shots as the Penguins defeated Muskingum 86-61 on the winners' home floor. Ron Allen led Youngstown scorers with 22 points as the Penguins picked up their 11th win against six defeats. Muskingum now has won seven and lost eight. Jim Burson and Tom Stein were high point men for the visitors from New Concord, each with 16.

Patterson Denies Back Injury Rumor

NEW YORK (AP)—Floyd Patterson's attorney denied rumors that the ex-champ had suffered a back injury in training and indicated Monday that April 4 is the most likely date for the rematch with heavyweight champ Sonny Liston.

"I talked to Floyd on the telephone," said Julius November, Patterson's attorney. "He told me to forget the rumors which he called 'a lot of nonsense.' He told me he ran four rounds at his camp at Highland Mills, N.Y."

November said the contracts already have been signed calling for the rematch to be held at Miami Beach between April 4 and April 11. He indicated the earlier date was the most probable.

Whips Player In Classic Playoff

Nicklaus Posts 8-Stroke Win In Palm Springs Golf

By JIM BACON

PALM SPRINGS Calif. (AP)—Jack Nicklaus, golf's million-dollar baby, is $9,000 richer Tuesday, an amazing 8-stroke winner over Gary Player in an 18-hole playoff for the Palm Springs Golf Classic championship.

Ironically, Nicklaus disclosed Monday that he almost cancelled playing in the classic because of bursitis in his hip.

Nicklaus shot a 34-31—65, six-under-par, over the Indian Wells course. He sank 35-foot putts for a birdie 3 on the 17th and for an eagle 3 on the 18th.

"Some weeks you only have to work four days for $9,000," said the smiling 23-year-old National Open champion. "This week I had to work six."

Player ran into disaster in the second nine. After finishing the first nine two strokes behind while shooting even par, Player bogeyed the 10th. He 3-putted from 25 feet, missing an 18-inch in the process.

That was nothing compared with what hit him on 12, where Player saw more palm tree trunks than a camel looking for shade. His tee shot landed behind one tree.

Three strokes behind, Player decided to gamble and took a vicious cut at the ball. It landed smack in back of another palm tree. Still gambling, Player hit the next shot left-handed. The ball hit another palm tree and bounced into a trap.

When the duffer's nightmare finally ended, Player had shot a triple bogey 7—and Nicklaus was six strokes ahead.

On the par 3 13th Nicklaus shot a birdie two and Player was in bogeysville again with a 4.

Player, one of the game's greats and the year's leading bogey trouble upset him. He finished the last 4 holes with three birdies and a par to wind up with a 36-37-73.

Loyola (20-0) Remains In 2nd Place

Cincinnati Is First In A P Poll For 10th Week In Row

By WILL GRIMSLEY

Associated Press Sports Writer
Headed by Cincinnati, No. 1 for the 10th straight week, the top six teams held their positions today in The Associated Press college basketball poll.

Behind the unbeaten Bearcats came Loyola of Chicago, Duke, Illinois, Arizona State and Georgia Tech, all of them unshaken after a week of solid success.

The last four teams in the order are Colorado, Mississippi State, Wichita and Stanford—the same as a week ago but in scrambled positions. The poll was based on games through Saturday Feb. 2.

Stanford, loser to Washington

49-47, fell from seventh to 10th and was replaced by Colorado, which climbed a notch after beating Oklahoma 77-68. Mississippi State rose a single rung to No. 8 on victories over Southern Mississippi and Louisiana State. Wichita moved up from tenth on a 66-38 decision over Tulsa.

Cincinnati, which won over Drake 65-60 in overtime and St. Louis 70-40 to extend its season's winning string to 17 games and its over-all streak to 35, drew 42 of the 44 first place votes from the AP's special panel of sports writers and broadcasters.

With 10 points for a first place vote, nine for second, etc., the Bearcats ran up 438 points for a substantial margin over Loyola, winner of 20 straight games.

Loyola, which crushed Washington of St. Louis 118-58 and Iowa 66-6, got one of the two stray first place nominations. The other went to third-place Duke, winner over South Carolina 88-70 and North Carolina 77-69.

The Top Ten with first-place votes in parentheses:
1. Cincinnati (42) 438
2. Loyola of Chicago (1) 378
3. Duke (1) 303
4. Illinois 291
5. Arizona State 204
6. Georgia Tech 203
7. Colorado 125
8. Mississippi State 98
9. Wichita 86
10. Stanford 46

Ford Frick Says Baseball More Popular Than Ever

By JOE REICHLER

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—In the wake of professional football's most prosperous season when once again this sports-conscious nation of ours is asking whether baseball has been permitting its winter counterpart to take over as America's national game, comes a voice that proclaims Abner Doubleday's invention to be in its healthiest state.

The voice is an important one since it belongs to baseball's chief executive, Commissioner Ford Frick.

"Baseball has never been more popular than it is today," said the man who has guided its destiny for the last dozen years. "More people are watching it, both in person and on television, and more youngsters are playing it than ever before."

According to Frick, baseball, since it shed its cloak of timidity 10 years ago and took the big plunge into the fresh waters of expansion, has made great strides moving into an era of prosperity, confidence and popular support the likes of which have ever been dreamed.

When Frick became the big boss of baseball, in September of 1951, the game was fraught with dangers and loaded with problems. Declining attendances, shifting populations, minor league unrest, threat of television, strained player-owner relations and congressional probes into the very structure of organized baseball contributed to his problems.

"Our complexities were unlike those the game ever had been confronted with before," said Frick.

"Ten years ago we had 16 clubs in the major leagues with two or three in dire circumstances. Today we have 20 healthy clubs with a system set up for 24 clubs."

"Is baseball losing interest? On the contrary, there is more interest than ever in baseball. Look at the paid attendance figures. The majors drew more than 20 million people last year, more than twice as many as they did 10 years ago."

television. More important to me is the fact that there were six million youngsters at ages 10 to 20 playing regularly under supervision."

Now to the burning question whether football is usurping baseball's heretofore unquestioned role as the mother sport in the country.

"I'm not going to become involved in a controversy with football," said Frick. "We in baseball are very happy about our game and we're not worrying about football. Both are major sports. Each has its place and season."

"It might be wise, though, to bear this one thought in mind. Is it possible for a sport with a season that comprises only 14 games to compete with another whose season extends through six months with games played every single day throughout those six months?"

Middletown Continues To Rule Class AA Poll; Warren Now Eighth

By FRITZ HOWELL

Associated Press Sports Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Tournament time is creeping up on Ohio's 471 Class AA and 445 Class A high school basketball teams, and the boys are having a merry time tuning up for the big test.

Coach Karl E. Schumacher's Cambridge St. Benedict team did plenty of eye-sharpening last week when it rolled to a 126-20 win over Deavertown — one of the greatest margins, 106 points—in Buckeye history.

Meanwhile, the hot-shot quintets continued their race in the weekly Associated Press poll.

Middletown's seven-time champions continued to rule the Class AA ratings, just as they have all season, but there were challengers aplenty.

Heading the pursuers were Cleveland East Tech, Dayton Chaminade and Columbus East.

Tie For 1st In Class A

For the first time in the poll's history, Class A wound up in a first-place deadlock between Bloomville, the all-season leader, and fast-closing Columbus University. They tied at 165 poll points with York of Sandusky County only 30 points away.

From here and there:

Mansfield (8-4) ended Marion Harding's 12-game winning streak 55-50, the Tygers leading by 15 at one time. Norwalk was victimized for the first time in 12 starts by Tiffin Columbian, 66-62 in an overtime.

Dayton Belmont also fell from the unbeaten list as Dayton Chaminade triumphed 57-47.

Bob Hoyt, 14-year-old Butler freshman who stands 6-foot-4, scored 23 of his team's 34 points against North Robinson Colonel Crawford but lost 63-34. Earlier in the week he counted 31. Colonel Crawford, fourth-ranked, is the Johnny Appleseed Conference champ.

Aparicio Happily Inks Orioles Pact

By The Associated Press
The baseball trade that sent Luis Aparicio from the Chicago White Sox to the Baltimore Orioles last month already is paying off as far as the speedy shortstop is concerned.

There's nothing like a change of uniform and a new pay contract to make a discontented player happy, and Aparicio showed his satisfaction by signing his 1963 contract Monday.

Although terms were not revealed, it was reported that the 29-year-old Venezuelan would receive about $37,500, the same salary he drew from the White Sox last season.

Luis had been miffed when the White Sox threatened him with a sizable pay slash before the trade.

Unbeaten In Conference

VanLue, which hasn't lost a conference game since 1960, has won its fourth straight Hancock County title. And Paint Valley, newcomer to the ratings, clinched its fifth straight Ross County crown last week.

Champion defeated Youngstown Liberty 55-44 for the first time in seven years. Warren Harding's Jim Gardner has 1,101 points for three years and 364 for the current one—just short of famed Larry Imburgia's school mark of 372.

East Liverpool's tallest boy, 6-2 Dean Cline, hit 30 for the third time this year against Wellsview. He's averaging 22. Marietta's All-Ohio Bill Warden, who had missed five games with a twisted knee, injured it again Saturday against Cambridge. The unbeaten Marietta team has a 72-47 scoring edge over 14 victims.

Teays Valley, five down with a half-minute to go, tied Greenview and then scored a lone basket in the last two seconds of the overtime to take it all. Logan Elm's 6-5 Danny Hicks, suffering an injured back, was given a checkup and a go ahead by Ohio State trainer Ernie Biggs.

Lorain St. Mary, a Class A school, has dropped a pair—both to Class AA quintets. The team, with a seven-game winning streak, is sparked by 6-4 senior Bruce Minnich, who has pulled down 234 rebounds in 11 games and scored 204 points.

Salem Future Opponent

Massillon defeated Alliance 58-48 last week to take the lead in the Big Eight League. Canton McKinley's Bill Morgan, a 6-7 jump shot artist, was ailing for a couple of weeks and the Bulldogs dropped a pair—but they're beginning to roll. Two of the starters are 6-7, one 6-3, one 6-1 and the other 5-11. No one has topped 60 against them.

Clay Appears For Hearing

Says He'll Give Boxing New Life

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Cassius Clay, the loquacious heavyweight with a penchant for poetic predictions, says he knows just what boxing needs to lift it out of the doldrums—a fellow named Clay.

"With Cassius Clay here it will live up to" the irrepressible Bard of boxing told a state legislative committee Monday.

Clay stole the spotlight at a public hearing on whether professional boxing should be abolished in New York State—and this was going some because he was in fast company.

Such ring greats as Carmen Basilio, Henry Armstrong and Billy Graham turned up to plead for the preservation of professional fistfights.

Clay, who likes to name the round-in-rhyme—when he's going to knock out his opponents, agreed that boxing was waning in popularity—like the birds going south for the winter. But it will make a comeback, he predicted, with Clay leading the way.

None of the witnesses who appeared at Monday's four-hour session spoke against boxing. They talked of its virtues as a physical conditioner and argued that underworld control of the sport had been virtually eliminated in New York State.

When a Bad Pass Becomes a Fumble
CHapel Hill, N. C. (AP) — Things never get dull in the press box at the University of North Carolina. If a basketball game tends to drag, sports information Director Bob Quincy pulls out his glossary of terms.

Here are a few that have caught Mr. Quincy's eye: BAD PASS—Any ball fumbled. CRAZY SHOT—Any basket made by a man loosely guarded. DEFENSIVE STAR — A poor shooter.

DOUBLE FOUL — A "chicken" call by the referee. DRIVER—Substitute who owns a convertible.

LONG SHOT—Any basket that isn't a long shot. MONSTER—A player an inch taller than another.

SWITCH — What the defensive man hollers when he has no idea where his man went.

This one was taken out of alphabetical order because it's a good finish: DEAN'S LIST — Any player on Coach Dean Smith's Tar Heel roster.

PETER MARRA, in his capacity as transportation director, was given authority to complete his work on the map of the school district and to prepare it for the Canton City Blueprint Company which will make a linen tracing of it for permanent use by the school.

Mental Health

President said, a broad, new mental health program can reduce by at least half the 600,000 hospitalized mental patients.

"Many more mentally ill can be helped to remain in their own homes without hardship to themselves or their families," he said.

"Those who are hospitalized can be helped to return to their own communities. All but a small proportion can be restored to useful life."

The community mental health center can be the focus of care, diagnosis, rehabilitation and emergency service, he said. It would operate day and night, for inpatients and outpatients. It would aim at prevention as well as treatment.

Such centers, using new methods of treatment and tranquilizers, will reduce the treatment periods to weeks or months, rather than years, the President said. This means that mental illness could be paid for as other medical and hospital costs.

The President said he has directed that a study be made to explore ways for encouraging expansion of private health insurance to include mental health care.

Several programs were recommended by the President to help prevent some of the 126,000 annual new cases of mental retardation, and to rehabilitate care for some 200,000 mentally retarded now in institutions.

Millionaire's Wife, Pilot Die In Plane Crash

OCALA, Fla. (AP)—The artist wife of millionaire sportsman Peter A. B. Widener died in a crash after their private plane made a low pass over the airport where Widener was waiting for her.

In addition to Patricia Widener, 35, the crash killed the Widener family pilot, Robert G. Staab, 40, Ocala.

The plane flew over the airport Sunday night, then disappeared during an apparent attempt to return to this central Florida town in the murky darkness.

The wreckage was found late Monday, nine miles south of the airport in scrub oak woods.

Lt. Col. Dick Lockman, head of the Civil Air Patrol at Orlando, said Staab flew directly over the field at 400 feet on one occasion.

"Mr. Widener saw the plane," Lockman said. "He (Staab) could have been setting up a landing pattern—going downwind and the coming back southeast."

Widener and the former Patricia Massey, married in 1959, had one son, Joseph, 2. Mrs. Widener's daughter by a previous marriage, Genevieve (Viv) Trevander, 11, lives in Palm Beach. Widener has two sons by a previous marriage.

Mrs. Widener was known for her art work and held several exhibitions. The Wideners maintained homes in Palm Beach and at Ocala, where Widener has a 1,000-acre thoroughbred farm.

Widener, 35, is a great grandson of Peter A. B. Widener, Philadelphia traction magnate. His grandfather, the late Joseph E. Widener, built Hialeah Park race track at Miami in the 1930s. Widener is a director.

Bill Would Allow Deductions For College Expenses

WASHINGTON (AP) — College expenses up to $1,000 a year would be made deductible for income tax purposes under a bill proposed today by Rep. Frank T. Bow, R-Ohio.

"My bill would lift a tremendous burden from young people who are attempting to support themselves while studying," Bow said in a statement.

"It would mean the difference between success and failure for parents of modest means who wish to send their children to college."

Bow's measure would make these items tax deductible: tuition; laboratory, library, field study and other required fees; textbooks, and the amount the student's "reasonable living expenses" would exceed his living expenses at home.

The amount of scholarships or veterans' benefits would be subtracted from the maximum allowable tax deduction.

The Canton congressman said in addition to helping students finance their own education and parents who pay their children's college expenses, the bill would "encourage thousands of people in the higher income brackets to give assistance to deserving but needy youngsters."

"If we truly wish to encourage and assist our bright youngsters to attend college, we should make the most liberal allowance so that most of the expenses of attending the average college will be covered," Bow said.

Slow-Moving Winter Storm Lashes At Atlantic Coastline

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—A slow-moving winter storm lashed the Atlantic today. Twenty-foot waves and 50-mile winds endangered more than a half-dozen ships and hobbled attempts at rescue.

The storm also pushed heavy breakers onto valuable oceanfront property, battering resorts and swallowing yards of beach.

Tides ran two to four feet above normal along the Carolinas, Georgia and northeast Florida Monday with flooding and considerable erosion, the Weather Bureau said.

The Coast Guard said towering waves made rescues ticklish. "We've got just about everything that will run out there," one officer said.

Before sweeping across Florida from the Gulf of Mexico, the storm sank a trawler, drowning three men. Six others were rescued.

Among the craft in trouble in the Atlantic were: the shrimp boat Mingo, the tanker Texico Illinois, the fishing vessel Sultana II, and the fishing vessel Tiger Shark.

A work crew of more than 60 shored up seawalls in Jacksonville with sandbags. A request for convict labor was turned down because the prisoners had their hands full trying to repair washed out drainage ditches and other storm damage.

The weather pattern in other parts of the nation showed only minor changes. No severe storms were reported and a warming trend continued in most sections from the Pacific Coast to the Appalachians. Unseasonably mild temperatures were reported in central and western parts of the country.

Subzero cold was reported only in northern Maine, with temperatures mostly in the teens in other parts of New England, in parts of New York State and from North Dakota eastward to the Lake Superior region. Snow flurries fell in parts of the cold belt.

Mahoning Check Of Personal Tax Returns Begins

A check of personal property tax returns over the past 2½ years will begin Thursday in the Mahoning County auditor's office to help settle a financial dispute between West Branch and Mahoning Local (Sebring) School Districts.

Deputy County Auditor Steve Mavragan, Clinton Heacock, West Branch executive head, and Donald Wise, Sebring school superintendent, will analyze the returns from mid-1960 to the present to determine if tax dollars have been paid to the wrong district.

The probe stems from a mix-up that grew out of the 1960 splitting of the Mahoning Local School District into West Branch and Sebring.

Meanwhile, an attempt by the district's attorneys to arrive at a stipulation of facts on the money division ended in a virtual impasse Monday in the office of Thomas Carotta, assistant Mahoning County prosecuting attorney, who has charge of civil affairs.

Atty. J. B. Blumenstiel, counsel for West Branch, commented after the session, "A little progress was made, but not much". The conference was attended by Blumenstiel, Atty. William Fowler Jr. of Youngstown, Sebring School counsel, Heacock, Wise and Atty. Carotta.

Failure to make headway on these discussions suggested the need for the examination of the auditor's personal property tax records.
